

The Rainbow Exchange

The Rainbow Exchange is a not-for-profit company that was founded in February 2020. We believe in the power of the performing arts to connect and communicate with communities, thus contributing to a healthier society.

Our aim is to bring the performing arts to communities who do not have easy access (including rural, disadvantaged communities, the elderly), to provide a platform for young, upcoming performing artists and to promote South African composers.

We support creative collaboration that contribute towards the United Nations SDG goals and therefore collaborate on interdisciplinary projects with other institutions and organisations.